me and I hope there aren't any from you.
What your doing in the radio room is really cool, I really enjoy it, hell I think every one does !
I always save it for last, though, (I lurk mostly because I have to sleep at night, cept for the week ends and I'm usually drunk as hell then, I have been lurking (not really lurking, I just have to read it later), but things are changing now, (I have several Marines in the family,,Shit dude The Marine Corp. is a family tradition)My nephew says he's gonna make a necklace out of Afghani ears... Same as my great uncle did with the Japs) I have been missing it since last Tuesday.

Mike you remind me so much of my brother and he was so cool!!! he never got pissed off at folks (even if some one tried to hurt him, he would have every one laughing about it!!!!) he just wanted to have a good time and enjoy the life around him.

You dont need a little brother do ya? HEE HEE :-)

Again I Sincerely Apologize

With Kind regards. I Am

Very Truly Yours

Richard

Heyya there shootzoo, Forget about it; things happen and we move on. It's not like it was constant or extreme. I accept any apology you feel would be necessary. I don't feel wronged or offended, and I at least hope it makes you feel better. Please do continue to join us here in the Radio Room, when you can stay up and see only one keyboard. 😊 🇺🇸

As for your Marine Corps family, I salute them all. I hope for their best interests in the months to come. Semper Fi to all of them.

As for the war trophies: I have seen strings of ears, and even a rug of scalps, from VietNam. You might want to tell your brother that he should possibly think twice about that.
