Does anybody know what's going on in the L.A. market? Art said he was going to be on KFI. I called and the person I talked to knows nothing. Art who? KABC is all politics and shrinks, all of the time. This sucks.

Feb 5 is coming fast and I'm starting to panic.

If KFI is a Clear Channel station chances are the person you spoke with was a temp.

LA's too big not to have Art cleared in it...don't worry.

Art's debut on KFI 640 AM at 10PM February 5th is a done deal. It's quite a coup for Art, since many years ago the KFI programming director declared it would be a "cold day in Hell" when they agreed to carry him.

Hell freezes over again!

You can check the KFI site at <http://www.kfi640.com> or <http://www.sunsetradio.com> for info. The sites appear to be down now...probably something to do with the power blackout in California!

Hey There Highwayman:

How've ya been? As you may recall, we both jumped ship from the old BBS at the same time and shipped in here.

Anyway, I'm in the same situation here in Chicago. We still have no idea as to whether WLS in Chicago will carry Art? I'd written the Station, but still have received no word. I think it may be this way because of the "Affiliate Shuffle," but who knows? What I do know is at present, we have a 50,000 watt hole in the midwest that isn't carrying Art.

Shooter-

I remember you well from your arrival here on 'Home At Last'. Good to hear from you my friend. (I've done alot of recruiting over there. Were you one who I E-mailed?)

I'm still looking for answers. KFI seems to know nothing about Art who. Sounds like your problem in Chicago is mine in L.A. We each have a market that needs to get it together real fast.

I wouldn't be too worried about not getting an answer at the radio station in LA. She was probably told to say nuffing.

I think you may have gotten a temp, too. I have done some temp work as a receptionist or first person to answer the phone at a business. This is the last place you want a temp. You need a person who knows what is going on and why. For some reason employers don't realize the importance of first impression and how that person can make or break a business.

I overhead someone say that they wanted to talk to me as people in my position are a gold mine of information. I take my secrets with me.

I'm still getting nothing from phone calls to KFI. My Emails go unanswered. Their web site says nothing about Art Bell.

Come on L.A. people!!! Talk to me. Call and demand an answer. It's a week away!

(Chicagofan and Shooter, I envy you guys.)

Relax he will be on KFI. Premrad owns the station.

I for one am happy because I could not get KABC here on the fringes of Palm Springs. The only way for me to listen was Real Audio or KOH in Reno using my C Crane Select Antenna.

KFI comes in loud and clear!

Hi Highwayman,

Caught your message in the Radio Room. Not to worry, my friend, that's how radio works. Admit nothing until the old host(s) are gone and the new host(s) appear. It's very rare when the outgoing host even knows they are going away, and even rarer when the station will admit someone new is replacing someone, especially at KFI. That's how they work. Leykis was there on one Friday, John & Ken were there the next Monday. John & Ken were there on one Friday, Karel & Andrew (yuk!) were there the next Monday. Karel & Andrew were there on one Friday, Phil Hendrie was there the next Monday...and so it goes. I don't listen to KFI in the evenings (yet), but the hosts that are on that timeslot, Tim & Neil, are promoting their show in a tongue-in-cheek manner already. Kind of "The Tim & Neil Show...for now." Radio, talk radio especially, is very cut-throat and bloody. Remember, the folks that answer the phones are told to play dumb. The station is not promoting C2C at all right now, and that is a shame. But, once C2C is on, they'll promote the Hell out of it as only KFI can do. Art wouldn't say that he is going to be on KFI if wasn't a done deal and the ink was already dry. Art is very careful with his words. Also, as a few have stated before me, KFI is owned by Clear Channel, who is also Premier Radio. If worse comes to worse, and, God forbid, Art is not coming on KFI, there is always KOGO AM 600 from San Diego. Not sure where you are in the LA Basin, but here in Orange County, and in Long Beach for that matter, KOGO comes in pretty well. Like KABC, KOGO goes North/South directional with their signal at night and it comes in pretty well here.

Hope this puts you at ease, brother! 😊

Johnny ~

Art will be knocking Lionel (in syndication) off the air on KFI. I hope they move him.

As for Tim and Neil-you aren't missing much.

Art came in loud and clear on KFI tonight!

The idiots on the phone could tell me nothing ahead of time though.
Does anyone know anything about the status of Dreamland in L.A.?
