One ring to bring them all and in the darkness bind them
In the land of Mordor where the shadows lie."

HB3 -
Sounds like a wonderful film!
Thanks for the link.
I am beginning to wonder if I should read it again - before - the movie?
Maybe it will be more evocative if I experience the movie with only my 'hidden memories' - after having read LOTR so long ago!
How exciting!

You might as well read the books Linnea...remember, the movie is coming out in three parts, each scheduled about a year or so apart

>
Are you really going to be able to wait to "see what happens"?

>
For me it was the battle between Gandalf and The Balrog....I HAD to skip ahead to see if he had somehow survived!!

I call that one :Beam me up Scotty...Bakula

I just can't see him in the role of a starship captain!

Everyone wanted Sulu but that was 'no go' a long time ago...Berman never gives us what we want. now they are moving the time frame to the 22nd century with more 'space shuttle' like costumes. It will be called 'Enterprise'.

From StarTrek.com:

"Set in the 22nd century, nearly 150 years before James T. Kirk and only 100 years from now, Enterprise introduces us to the pioneering days of space exploration, when interstellar travel is in its infancy, and a universe — and the unknown — portends both danger and awe," Nunan said. "Appropriately, the crew of Enterprise exhibits a sense of wonder as well as a little trepidation about the strange things and beings they will encounter. Being among the first to explore deep space, they will have to prove they are ready for life among the stars."

"Leading the crew is Captain Jonathan Archer, to be played by Scott Bakula of Quantum Leap and 'American Beauty' fame," he continued. "Captain Archer is the prototype for Starfleet captains to come. He's bold, intensely curious and eager to venture where no man has gone before. He possesses all of the traits that any NASA astronaut today would need to lead a crew into heavens they had only read about or studied before."

Well, I've been a Trekkie since the Series first aired in the 1960'S !

I'm ready to see a "backstory" or "prequel" of my favorite Universe, originally created by Gene Roddenberry.

I'm gonna give Scott Bakula a chance. He sure demonstrated his wonderfull acting range in "Quantum Leap".

This movie looks awesome! I about fell out of the theater chair when it came on as a preview!! I actually got goosebumps.. I hope they don't blow it, I was about as disappointed as I could be when the Dune movie came out, if you hadn't read the book you'd have had absolutely no clue. The potential for greatness is there.

That was bad.

However, I recall liking 'The Hobbit' animated special that they used to show on tv. I even had (in fact still have) the LP boxed set!
