It seems that they, the elected and those whom they cater to, are really out of touch with life as we know it. It seems that, when they hit Washington DC, they're living on another planet. Even Bush is taking a month vacation at his ranch, not to mention all his weekend get-aways. He's only been in office for 6 months. Where can most of us get a job, then get a month's vacation in so short a time? For most of us, a week's vacation is impossible. Any way, that tax refund will probably go toward paying the high heating bills that we acquired over the winter. There are so many pressing problems affecting our country right now that I wonder what he can accomplish from his ranch.

sandy -- he can accomplish a VACATION - just like all presidents in the past have vacationed -- only they've usually gone to high dollar areas.... I find it totally refreshing that a President would desire to 'go back home' for part of his vacation - shows he really is "folk" and a people person.

Now as for the rest of THOSE people - how many will spend any great amount of time in THEIR home state? hmmm maybe one week of the four?? thats about the usual.

If I remember correctly, Clinton vacationed in "The Hamptons", I'm pretty certain that isn't in Arkansas! 😊

I agree with sandy!

What did this guy do in 6 months to deserve a month off? I mean give me a break!

Now what about Congress and the Senate who only meet like 7 months out of the year and the rest of the year they get vacation?

I think Senate and Congress and all other elected positions shouldn't be a paid job! Give them gov't housing and food stamps! As it is we pay for their houses and food AND pay them a salary! It's insane!

Also let's put them on OUR plans! Like SS and Medicare! Put their kids in OUR schools!

See how quick things are changed!

Square - its a tradition started many years ago - month of AUG vacation bit. Its like an employee going to work for a new company and a paid vacation time comes up shortly after this person starts working at the company. IF its a federal holiday - that new worker gets the paid vacation time even if he's only been there a week.

As to what he's done in 6 months.. a whole lot more than what his predecessor did - who also took the AUG vacation after HIS first 6 mo in office.
